PIONEER WASHER.
E. G. BOLTER,
AGENT FOR OREGON AND WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

THIS CELEBRATED WASHING MACHINE IS now for the first time introduced to the Oregon public. It is unrivalled for its simplicity, durability and the rapidity and ease of its action Washing the dirtiest clothes perfectly clean in from five to ten minutes, with but slight labor, and lasting, with proper care, for ten years The wear and tear of clothing in washing by this machine is vastly less than by any other known process of washing It does its work by a reverse motion in forcing the water through the clothes.

It having a tight cover, the steam thus assists materially in cleansing the clothes, and also avoids the inhaling of steam from hot suds

This Machine captured the Special Premium at the California State Fair, and all that have used it pronounce it an invaluable adjunct to aid housekeepers and families and washing men and washing women.

It has been extensively introduced throughout the State of California, and receives the universal commendation of all who have used it.

Correspondence between Governor Orr and General Sickles

WASHINGTON, Sept 22 —The following is a copy of the correspondence between Governor Orr and General Sickles

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
COLUMBUS, (S C,) Sept 7, 1867.

Major General D E Sickles, Charleston, S. C —Sir I have learned from the public press, although I have received no official notice of the fact, that you have been relieved of the command of the Second Military District, embracing this State and North Carolina, and that by order of the President, Major General Canby has succeeded to the same I desire to express to you the great regret which I feel personally and officially at the course taken by the President and his advisers in this matter There are many of the orders which have been issued by you since the passage of the reconstruction bills in March last which did not meet my approval, but it is due to you and your official action that I should bear voluntary testimony to the wisdom and success of your administration, and to express the opinion that the almost unlimited power with which you were invested by the Acts of Congress have been exercised with moderation and forbearance

Your General Order No 10, so far as this State is concerned, was last spring, in my opinion absolutely necessary Looking to the impoverished condition of the country, the shortness of provisions and staple crops last year, to the general pecuniary distress pervading the country, to the necessity of protecting the small means of the farmers at that time from the process of the Courts, they were thereby enabled to subsist their families and grow their present crop. This crop promises to be, in many respects in many sections of the State, the most important and largest which has been grown for several years, and when harvested you could without hazard or apprehension, have executed your purpose, as declared to me, of modifying General Order No. 10, so that creditors could have enforced their demands without producing general distress, if nothing worse It is also due to you that I should say that, in my judgment, if General Order No 10 had not been issued last spring, a very considerable increase in the number of troops in this State would have been necessary to have been stationed at many of the court houses to preserve the public records from destruction and insure the safety of the sheriffs in executing civil process in their hands, which they had been ordered to levy by thoughtless or heartless creditors. In my opinion, General Order No. 10 received the approval of a very large majority of the citizens of South Carolina, and your general administration as Commandant of the District is approved by a majority nearly as great.

In all the official intercourse we have had, I beg to tender you my thanks for the uniform kindness and courtesy with which I have been treated personally, and for the disposition you have also manifested to make the burdens of the military government as light upon the people whom I represent as it was possible under the circumstances. I have not the pleasure of a personal acquaintance with your successor, General Canby, but hope that my official relations with him may be marked with the same harmony and kind feeling which have characterized our official intercourse for nearly two years past I have the honor to be, General, very truly and respectfully, your friend and obedient servant,

JAMES L. ORR,
Governor of South Carolina.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21, 1867.

To His Excellency James L. Orr, Governor of South Carolina—Sir Your Excellency's letter of the 2d inst. was forwarded to me at New York, and received on the 14th. The cordial terms in which you are pleased to refer to our official and personal relations during my service in the Carolinas are gratefully appreciated In my successor, Brevet Brigadier General Canby, you will meet with an officer whose ample experience and distinguished service have justly commended him to the confidence of the Government In view of the announcement already made by General Canby in the Second Military District, it is not probable that any material change in the conduct of affairs will result from the change in command. In my retirement it is a source of much satisfaction to compare the present condition of South Carolina with that which I found on assuming command in the Autumn of 1865. The system of free labor has been successfully inaugurated; the emancipated blacks have been invested with civil rights by the voluntary Act of your Legislature; the tranquility and order which have been maintained attest the general desire of all classes of the people to observe the obligations of good citizens; an abundant harvest has rewarded industry, grain is now exported from Charleston; registration has proceeded almost to completion, without commotion or tumult, or any serious interruptions of the ordinary avocations of the people. Since October, 1865, the Courts of the United States and of the State have exercised nearly all their powers without hindrance. The jurisdictions of the Courts, although a permitted jurisdiction, has never been restricted except in particular cases imperatively demanded by the exigencies of the situation; and the civil authorities in general have been upheld, and the civil law has been administered with only such limitations as became necessary in the execution of the several Acts of Congress

The particular measure of my administration which you are pleased to mention with special commendation, General Order No. 10, was, it is said, the occasion of my dismissal from command You have justly described the order in question as intended to enable the people to make a good crop this year, and thereby obtain the means to support themselves and pay their debts. If my removal had been provoked by some act of oppression, spoliation or cruelty, it would have been a matter of more regret to myself. As it is, I find no reason to reproach myself in endeavoring to restore in some degree the material prosperity of an impoverished population, and to avert the serious disturbances that would have followed the prosecution of more than 30,000 suits for debt pending in South Carolina when General Order No 10 was issued in April last.

Although my official relation to the Department of the Carolinas has ceased, I cannot be indifferent to the welfare of communities whose interests were so long confided to my charge; nor is their prosperity a matter of indifference to the people of the United States or their Representatives in Congress The population of the Carolinas have not tried to prevent the organization of legal civil Governments in the rebel States, and it is only just for me to state that your own prompt and patriotic acquiescence in the requirements of the Government relieved the people you represent of many of the burdens of military government and at the same time removed some of the most serious impediments to the execution of the Reconstruction Acts in South Carolina I trust your people will not suffer any detriment by reason of complications for which they are not responsible It only remains for them to comply with the conditions prescribed by Congress and South Carolina will soon be restored to the Union with all her ancient rights and dignity as a sovereign State unimpaired These conditions have no other object than to make our institutions truly republican in substance and form, that justice may be done and that no occasion or pretext for conflict may hereafter be found.

There is not, in my judgment, any sufficient reason to apprehend that the colored people will not make good citizens. Freedom and education are rapidly developing this long dormant and helpless caste With advantages far inferior to the other races which have found their way to this country, the African has proved himself loyal, industrious and obedient to the laws. Generously fostered and justly treated, the freedmen will become the bone and sinew of Southern population and power With the solution of this problem and the disappearance of the asperities incident to a long war, the Carolinas will enter upon a new career of prosperity alike attractive to the philanthropist who seeks the happiness of his fellows, and gratifying to statesmen whose ambition is gratified in the progress of the Commonwealth.

Remembering with pleasure the courtesy and consideration always shown to me by your Excellency in all our intercourse, official and personal, and with the liveliest interest in the happy termination of the sad years of strife which have already too long afflicted our country, I remain, truly yours, D. E. SICKLES, Major General

Dryden was so bound up in his books that his wife exclaimed, "I wish I were a book that I might always be in your society," "I wish you were an almanac, so I could change you every year," replied he.

Branch Mint Question Again.

EDITOR OREGONIAN

My apology for again bringing the Branch Mint question before the public is the following: 1st, I am informed that during my absence from Oregon, and when I had no opportunity to defend myself against its attacks, the paper published at the Dalles severely censured and condemned my action on the above question. 2d, Having recently learned that Judge Williams in his late speech at the Dalles, had explained his course in Congress on the Mint question, and that the explanation was satisfactory, I supposed that the citizens of that place were probably in a proper state of mind to hear and receive truth on the subject, and that I would improve the favorable opportunity to make my defence And as the Mountaineer had condemned me without a hearing, I asked that sheet to do me the justice to publish my communication, sent to the OREGONIAN But, sir, I was not disappointed in the course taken by the editor of that paper in reference to myself I did not expect him to publish my article. I had no idea he would appreciate my arguments, neither did I suppose he would be influenced by a sense of justice, and he will please excuse me for declining to enter a controversy with him. I have the satisfaction, however, of knowing that a portion, and probably the best portion, of the citizens of Wasco county fully justify my action touching the Mint, that as a true representative I was bound to take the course that I did in reference to the matter.

From a late number of your paper I see that Hon. John R McBride feels himself aggrieved by the statements I made in my communication to your paper, on the 3d inst. I will now say to Mr. McBride that I have no desire to do injustice to him, or any other person, but when ventilating a mysterious subject, should I happen to throw a few rays of light upon a shaded point that bears heavily upon him, I hope he will bear it as lightly as possible. When I fired that shot I expected it would cause a fluttering among the birds, as birds are expected to flutter under a certain contingency. I am sorry, however, that Mr. McBride suffered the smart of his wound to drive him into the utterance of statements so glaringly untrue as to be noted by the most casual observer, for instance, he says that I "treated the location of the Mint at Dalles as wholly an Oregon matter." This idea is repeated several times in his communication, and I am surprised that he makes it when its untruth is so patent to every one.

The memorial of the Oregon Legislature, under which I acted, did not so treat it, and I, so far from treating it wholly as an Oregon matter, regarded, and almost invariably spoke of, and treated it as a question of interest to the whole country west of the Rocky Mountains and north of California, as any one may see by reference to my speech on the subject.

Mr McBride takes exceptions to the statement made by Mr. Hooper, of Massachusetts, relative to the Oregon delegation coming before the committee to urge its location at the Dalles He says "unfortunately for the truth of this statement the records will show that the Bill, which passed Congress, never was before the committee of Ways and Means, or any other committee of the House whatever, at any time." Now, I say, unfortunately for the candor of this disclaimer, it embraces that which nobody affirms—neither Mr Hooper in his statement nor I in my communication to the OREGONIAN, ever said that the Bill was before the committee of Ways and Means, but Mr. Hooper did say that the "Oregon delegation came before the committee." Mr McBride denies emphatically that he was before it I suppose that he means that he has no recollection of going before that committee He also denies that either of his colleagues from the Senate ever went before it. Now, this shows the reckless manner in which Mr. McBride writes How could he know whether either of his colleagues had ever been before the committee or not? I say emphatically, that they might have been before that committee twenty times and he know nothing about it.

But Mr McBride, doubtless unwittingly and unintentionally, reveals the very reason why they were all before that committee, not that the Bill was before it, but because of "its known opposition to a Mint at all" He says they wished to avoid that committee. How did they expect to do it? By keeping the Bill on the Speaker's table three months? Did he suppose keeping it back would cause that committee to vote for the Bill when it should come up for action? or were they waiting for the members of that committee all to go home? Now, he says the bill lay on the table three months, and they knew that this committee was opposed to a Mint at all Now, I say, that there is nothing more reasonable and natural than that the Oregon delegation should go before that committee and try to satisfy them—at least prevent them from opposing its passage, as they had three months to work in

But whether they came before this particular committee or not, is a matter of but little consequence; the important matter is, did they advocate the location at the Dalles, instead of Portland? This is the question, and Mr McB admits, in substance, that the Oregon delegation did ask its location at the Dalles, but justifies the course on the ground that Washington and Idaho Territories would have it so. Now let us look at the probabilities in the case So far from its being true during the 39th Congress, the delegates from both these Territories, as between Portland and the Dalles, decidedly preferred the former—especially Mr. Holbrook. Again, in introducing the bill for its removal from Dalles to Portland, I was sustained by petitions numerously signed by citizens of both Idaho and Boise cities, in Idaho Territory, and of Auburn, LaGrande and Umatilla in Eastern Oregon, and lastly, Mr. Pyle, Senator from Union, and Mr Colt, Representative from Baker county, both in Eastern Oregon, were active in procuring the passage of the Memorial praying Congress to re locate the Mint

These circumstances show conclusively to my mind that neither the people of Idaho Territory nor Eastern Oregon prefer the location of the Mint at the Dalles,—in short, nobody prefers it at that place, except a little handful at that place, whose local interest would be promoted by it,—I also except Mr McBride, who told me personally that he believed the Dalles the proper location for it.

Again, Mr. McB says that "Mr. H" (meaning myself,) "admits that he told Mr. McCulloch that he did not want the money expended at the Dalles" I am astonished at the recklessness of this statement! Where do I admit any such thing? Here I will say, that while in Congress I did more real hard work for the benefit of the people of the Dalles than for any other section or locality of the State, that was in securing the Military Road Bill, from Dalles to Fort Boise And that is a more favorable road bill than was passed for any other part of the State—it allows the State to go ten miles for lands to make up deficiencies, and the other bills only allowed a distance of six miles

Mr McBride labored hard to throw the responsibility of the damage done the mint prospects upon me, because I introduced the bill for its removal If this had come from the Mountaineer I should not have been surprised, but when it comes from Mr McBride, who ought to know the relation between a representative and his constituents, I am astonished He knows that I, the representative was acting strictly in accordance with legislative instructions, does he deny this "right of instruction?" He does in effect in throwing the responsibility for the effects of the bill upon me I confess that I have always been verdant enough to suppose that when a representative acted in accordance with instructions from his constituents, that the responsibility for the act rested with the latter and not the former.

Finally, kind reader, could you suppose it possible that the same Hon J R McBride, who censures me so seriously for introducing a bill for the removal of the Branch Mint from the Dalles to Portland, had himself introduced a bill for the identical same purpose, at the session of Congress immediately preceding the session at which I introduced my bill? He did, most assuredly! Hear what the record saith

"Mr. McBride asked unanimous consent to introduce a bill to re locate the United State Branch Mint, provided for by the act of July, 1864"

There it is! Try again, John! Did he then hold himself responsible for damaging the Mint prospects by the introduction of this bill? I trow not, because he was acting in accordance with legislative instructions, so did I act under the same kind of instructions. But there was difference in the result He failed to get a report from the committee to whom his bill was referred, and I succeeded in getting one from my committee, though an unfavorable one. The people of the Dalles, I understand, made Mr. McBride a handsome present, I presume for what he had done on the mint question, but whether it was for introducing the bill for its removal, or for failing to get a report from his committee I know not—perhaps the Mountaineer can tell. A portion of the people of the Dalles offered me three town lots in their city, for what they wished me to do, I presume, and when I declined accepting them, they became my enemies They like Mr. McBride and dislike me, notwithstanding we acted alike in introducing each his bill for the removal of the Mint from the Dalles

In conclusion, I have no favor to ask of the people of the Dalles, or any other portion of the State; especially none to ask of the men who run the Mountaineer. A consciousness of having done my duty like a faithful representative, is reward enough for me. J H. D HENDERSON.

THE FOUR GREAT SINKS —Within the great basin stretching far to the eastward, from the base of the mountain range upon which this city stands, flow the waters of Walker, Carson, Truckee and Humboldt Rivers, each one emptying into a separate sink, or broad lake of numerous miles in diameter, These four great sinks lie within a comparatively small compass, approaching so near each other, that a man mounted on a good horse could visit them all, and wash his hands in each one successively, all in a single day. Ever since the knowledge of man, and some time previously, these great volumes of water have been eternally pouring themselves into these sinks aforesaid, and will probably continue to do so for an indefinite period longer. There is no outlet to them, and where all this inflowing water goes to, is no affair of ours It may sink away in the sands of the great desert, or it may evaporate, or it may do both, one thing is certain, the rivers always contrive to keep the sinks well supplied, further, deponent saith not —Virginia City Enterprise.

The following is a Washington dispatch dated September 23d

A number of Democrats are here urging the President to bestow all the offices and patronage he possibly can upon the members of their party, as they say, to strengthen their hands in the coming elections The President, however, does not see his way clear to do this at present, and complains of the articles in several of the Democratic organs, repudiating the allegiance of the President. Among the applicants for Collector Collicott's office (Third Internal Revenue District of New York) is Sunset Cox, of that city. The President is urged to appoint a Democrat upon the ground of the corruption of the Weed, Raymond and Morgan men, who have filled these offices in that State. They say that these men will probably unite to keep the positions for their friends in case the President is impeached.

Williamsville, Cass county, Michigan, is a community of colored people who left their masters at the South in the days of slavery and sought a home in the North They number about 2,000. Many own good farms, and they have three good churches, support good schools, and some of their young people are seeking an education in the higher seminaries and colleges.

The statue that the rich man places ostentatiously in his window, is not to be compared to the little expectant face pressed against the window pane, watching for its father, when his day's labor is done.

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 21 1867.

"School Boys" and "Veteran Editors."

For the space of fully two years, or ever since the question of taxing bonds was first mooted by the Democratic party in this State, we have been citing from the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States to show that Government securities could not, consistently with the constitution, be subjected to State taxation. But the orators of that party, through ignorance or dishonesty, or both combined, continuing their demagogical appeals on the taxation of bonds, we determined to go through the subject more thoroughly than we had ever done, and to show by the decisions of the ultimate tribunal extending through a period of fifty years, that such stocks are not taxable, that they are exempted by the Constitution and not by the Republican party, and that a Democratic Supreme Court, headed by Chief Justice Taney, has held this very doctrine. These facts we have fully shown, and there can be no cavil about them. The Herald has had a good deal to say on the subject during the progress of this examination, and after we have established beyond question facts which it has always denied, it faces about and says that it always knew this was the law! To illustrate its learning and candor, we set in contrast the following extracts from its own columns:

From the Herald of Oct. 20, 1867:	From the Herald of Mar. 23, 1867:
We are now fully satisfied that we were in error in attributing the rehash of the decision of the Supreme Court, which is appearing in numbers in the OREGONIAN, to any but the ostensible editor of that paper. The cackling which he makes over discoveries new to him, but perfectly familiar to all at all acquainted with the political history of the country, betrays the self sufficiency of the school boy over his first acquirement of elementary knowledge, and not the matured judgment of the professor who had learned to apply principles to facts. No one disputes the facts alleged, that the Supreme Court of the United States has decided that Government securities cannot be taxed by the States. That it was a mooted question is evidenced by the fact that it has been, before the Supreme Court several times for determination, on appeal from State Courts; the last time on appeal from the Supreme Court of the State of New York."	The OREGONIAN says that the "Supreme Court has decided a score of times that Government bonds are not taxable," and yet the Democrats insist that the bonds must be taxed, and make this doctrine one of the articles of their political faith" We do not utterly deny this statement, but it seems to us very strange that the Supreme Court should have passed upon this question a score of times, and we should never have heard of it before. We could better understand how to meet this case if a single one of the score of cases had been indicated. The only decision bearing upon the case which we can call to mind, was one involving the question whether National Bank stock, based upon Government bonds was taxable. We know of no State which has attempted to tax Government bonds, and until such an attempt is made and resisted, we do not understand enough of law to know how a case could be made before the Supreme Court If the Court has made such a decision, or whenever it does," etc., etc.

From this record it appears that the editor of the OREGONIAN was, last March, discussing the subject of taxing Government Bonds and quoting from the decisions of the Supreme Court thereon; that the editor of the Herald at that time confessed that he had "never heard" of the decisions before, and doubted whether any had been made; that he could "call to mind only one decision" at all bearing upon the case, and this decision did not meet the point at issue; that he "knew of no State which had attempted to tax Government bonds," and therefore did not know "how a case could have been made before the Supreme Court;" that he is now aware that the question has been before the supreme court several times for determination, on appeal from State Courts; that "no one disputes the fact that the Supreme Court of the United States has decided that Government securities are not taxable," and that these facts are "perfectly familiar to all acquainted with the political history of the country." From this record it would also further appear that the Herald editor's "familiarity" with this subject is of very recent date; that last March the "veteran editor" had "never heard" of the decisions with which he is now so perfectly acquainted; that the "matured judgment of the professor" is based on learning which he has evidently acquired from the OREGONIAN within less than a week, and that our "first acquirement of elementary knowledge" on this subject very considerably ante dates his own learning upon it. The disquisitions of the "experienced editor" who writes so intelligently on important subjects as does the author of the extracts we have set in contrast, must be of very great value to a discriminating public. There is nothing like the "matured judgment "which knows how "to apply principles to facts!"

A Rebel Realizes the Situation.

Herschel V. Johnson, ex-Senator C. S. A., is in tribulation. The constitutional efforts of himself and his associates to disrupt the United States and destroy the Government having failed, and the entertainment which they are now enjoying being so much different from what they had promised promised themselves, Herschel V., is in a most doleful mood. He is exceedingly restive under the restraint of the "ruling powers," and informs the world in a late letter that "the theme is one on which it is painful to dwell." Probably it is. It is not to be supposed that the theme is anything near so cheerful as it was in 1861. It is usually less "painful" to sow the wind than to reap the whirlwind. Of course we find in this letter professions of a life-long love for, and unswerving fidelity to, the Constitution and the Union. The writer is too thorough a "Democrat" to omit this essential feature of the part he is accustomed to play. We quote from the jeremiad of this injured patriot:

> Though I never cherished an emotion of hostility to the Constitution, or the Union of our forefathers under it—though I have spent a quarter of a century in trying to uphold both—yet now I find myself, at the end of such a career, disfranchised and assigned to a position, in respect to political and civil rights, inferior to that of my former slaves. My home is in the track of Sherman's march. His army destroyed nearly everything I possessed, including my private papers and title deeds, and reduced me from comfort to poverty. If I were young, and could be let alone, I might rally from my prostration; but at my time of life, in view of present surroundings, and the darkness that curtains the future, I scarcely hope to be able to feed and clothe my family. I say these things in no spirit of unmanly repining. Poverty is a misfortune; but I would welcome it, if, by the sacrifice, I could bring back to life the liberties of my country and the glories of the old Union.

The Confederate ex-Senator's labors and sacrifices for the "Union" ought to secure him a place in Andy's Cabinet, or a foreign appointment. No doubt he is now in a frame of mind to welcome back "the glories of the old Union,"—said glories to consist of Southern domination at Washington and throughout the country, bludgeons upon the floors of Congress, the mobbing of "Abolitionists" everywhere, slaves to work the sugar and cotton fields of "Southern gentlemen," and all the appointments of that blissful condition of society which depended on this state of things.

Progressing.

This from the Herald of Saturday:

> We hold and charge the Republican majority in Congress solely responsible for exempting the Government securities from taxation.

And this from the Herald of Sunday:

> No one disputes the facts alleged, that the Supreme Court of the United States has decided that Government securities cannot be taxed by the States.

Here we have it. On Saturday it is charged that the Republican party exempted the bonds from taxation, and on the following day it is admitted that the Constitution, as expounded by the judicial branch of the Government, exempts them. This metamorphosis marks the progress of the Herald editor's knowledge on the subject. It would be impossible for him to make a more complete betrayal of his ignorance than he has done in dealing with this question.

LETTERS FROM THE INTERIOR OF THE STATE.

(FROM OUR TRAVELING CORRESPONDENT)

Oct. 18, 1867.

Marion county is almost as well provided with roads, as Salem, is with streets, and as a general rule, they are laid out with considerable regularity. There are roads leading to every part of the county, and, considering the sparseness of the settlements through which they pass, they are good, and would do credit to an older and more thickly settled county But there is one thing I would like to suggest, to the road makers, Supervisors or whose ever business it may be, and that is, to place guide boards at all cross roads. Many of the houses in this county were built before the roads were laid off, and so very many of them stand a long way from the road. A stranger finds it very inconvenient when he comes to one of these cross roads, to have to open a gate and ride half a mile up a lane, or, climb a fence, and walk through a broad field to the nearest house, to enquire what road he ought to take. But I succeeded in finding my way, I turned South, then East, leaving the beautiful Salem prairie, and soon found myself among the

WALDO HILLS.

This sea of hills (for they are like great waves, with gently sloping sides and rounded tops,) skirts the prairie on the East and South and extends many miles across the country. Mr. Waldo, was one of the first settlers here, and now, each one of the hills is a monument to his memory. The soil is generally good, and in some parts it is exceedingly fertile, producing the finest crop of grain, grass, fruit and vegitables From some points, the scene is very fine, commanding views of a great portion of the valley, and the surrounding mountains. These hills are principly prairie, dotted and skirted by groves of timber, that adds diversity and beauty to the landscape. The late rains have started the grass, and now, they are almost as green as May, with fresh grown sod. I called at the farm of R. C. Geer, who for many years kept a nursery, and supplied the surrounding country with fruit trees His place abounds in fruit—of the largest and finest sorts. He has turned his hogs into his orchards, where they eat hundreds of bushels of the best of apples and pears. Fruit is so very abundant this fall, and will bear such small prices, that this is probably the best disposition that can be made of it. Mr. Geer has an orchard of the largest pear trees in the State. They are from 25 to 35 feet high and large in proportion. He showed me some of "Geer's Seedling" a pear that he raised from the seed. It is the choice of several hundred seedlings that have borne fruit on his place. It ripens soon after the Bartlett, resembles it somewhat, and is a valuable pear. On beyond the Waldo hills to the south and west is the Mill creek and Santiam bottoms, a large extent of nearly level land. The soil of this land is good, though it contains considerable gravel, but not enough to damage it materially. Here on Mill creek, about 12 miles from Salem I found, a flourishing little town that I have never heard of before. It stands in the center of a good agricultural district, and has advantages that will make it a smart little place. It has a grist mill, a blacksmith shop, wagon shop, picture gallery, saloon, two stores, and G. W. Shriver's saddlery establishment—and all seem to be busy. The mill belongs to H L. Turner, and is one of the best custom mills in the State. It is 40 feet by 60, four stories high, and runs three sets of Burrs. The flour put in market from this mill is among the best brands. The people of the town are making an effort to get a postoffice established there. It is much needed, and would accommodate a great many people. About five miles from Aumsville stands.

AUMSVILLE,

SUBLIMITY,

on the highest land in the vicinity, overlooking the surrounding country, much of which is covered with oak grubs. The town does all the business there is for a town to do, which is of course but little. It has a postoffice, two stores and a few shops, and wears rather an unthrifty appearance. The land surrounding the town is good, and when cleared off and put under cultivation can be made into pleasant and beautiful homes. Sublimity on the lower foothills of the great mountains; but the settlements extend many miles back on the long slopes of the higher hills. Twelve miles north, on Silver creek, I come to three or four miles back of Howell prairie. The best part of the Waldo hills reach up within a few miles of Silverton, and there are other good lands near, so it is the center of a brisk little trade. It has a good school, postoffice, and several stores, shops, and a hotel. From here on north, I traveled on the old territorial road, over which I passed in the fall of '52, when I came to the country, "a poor emigrant." The land is tolerably fertile, but much of it is covered with oak grubs. Seven miles north of Silverton, at Butte Creek, is the line between Marion and Clackamas counties. A postoffice is about to be established at this point, on the recently established mail route from Portland via Foster's, South along the back road to Scio in Linn county. Six miles farther North is Glad Tiding's Post office and a store. From here on to Fosters, (excepting the beautiful Molalla prairie, and a few smaller ones) there is but little else than oak grubs. Fir trees and copperheads, with now and then a first-rate Union man. I met one of these Constitutional Democrats on the road, who said that he had been driven out of Missouri "just because he was a Democrat." Another one told me that he had just got news that New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and Michigan had all gone Democratic by large majorities (perhaps my friend John F. Miller had sent him a telegram) at the October elections. He will circulate the news among his brethren, and they will always believe it. Not being able to read they get their news by "word of mouth," and when it comes from a Democrat, they know 'tis true.

I called at a house to learn which of two roads to take, and among other questions, I asked which road had the most people near it that would be likely to wish for a good newspaper. The good lady told me to take road, for there was Mr. ——, and his son, who had "just jined meetin' and got religion, and they might want a newspaper." So I took the road. P. W. G.

Northern Pacific Railroad.

We have information from Olympia that Gen. Tilton, Chief Engineer of the Pacific Division of the Northern Pacific Railroad, will return to this place during the present week to begin the survey of a route through the Cascade mountains along the Columbia river. It is the expectation that the survey will extend as far as Cape Horn, and and probably farther this winter. The work will be done systematically, with the view of ascertaining the actual state of the route and determining its comparative practicability. In commencing this survey, Gen. Tilton is acting under orders from the Board of Directors of the Railroad Company. On the 15th of September the Board held a meeting in New York, at which the business of the Company and prospects of the road were fully discussed. The most favorable spirit was manifested and the prospects for a subsidy from Congress were considered very good. It was stated that the Legislature of seven States had instructed their members in Congress to vote for the aid which the Company asks for. As it was deemed important to ascertain as quickly as possible which of the proposed routes through the Cascade mountains is most practicable, so that the road may be located with the least possible delay, General Tilton was instructed to begin the survey from Portland up the Columbia river as soon as the first party now employed in exploring the northern passes had completed its assigned work.

The survey on the Eastern Division of the road is progressing very favorably, and the Company hope to be ready to make such a report to Congress this winter as will secure the subsidy without delay.

BLAIR UPON THE CABINET.—A Washington dispatch to the Boston Journal says

> Montgomery Blair, in his speech yesterday at the Bladensburg mass meeting, denounced the Cabinet as "a set of political vermin," and said that Secretary Seward, on the eve of the coming elections, was endeavoring to betray the Administration into the hands of its enemies. He believed that the President would be impeached, and declared that the present condition of things was without precedent in the history of the country.

By an act of the Nebraska Legislature, passed June 24th, women of lawful age are allowed to vote at the district school meetings. The first elections under the law will be held in October. The Omaha Republican suspects "the entering wedge is thus driven for universal suffrage in Nebraska.

THE VARIOUS RAILROAD ROUTES.—A Correspondent of the Advocate, writing from the summit of the Sierra Nevada mountains, on the line of the Pacific Railroad, writes, October 5th, as follows of what Oregon ought to be doing for its own vital interests: "Is Oregon moving in the matter of Railroads? If not, she will have to take a back seat. The same spirit of enterprise that prevails here would inaugurate a railroad from the Dalles, or some point on the Columbia river, to connect with the Idaho and Montana mines and the Central Pacific at or near Salt Lake City, immediately, and in the early spring of 1868 have hundreds of men at work, looking to its completion simultaneously with that of the great Pacific and Atlantic. With it Oregon would keep pace with California—without it she would be completely isolated. With it she secures the trade of Idaho and Montana, which are her proper rights; without it, she as surely will lose it; with it she has a commerce of her own, without it she is tributary to San Francisco; with it Portland is a prosperous commercial city, without it, the grass will grow in your streets; with it, the great Pacific Railroad will be a blessing to your State, without it, it will be a curse. Soon this Pacific road will have reached the big bend of the Humboldt—a point nearer, perhaps to Owyhee, Idaho and Boise cities, as well as your city, than any other point upon the road, and at which point the Idaho and Montana trade will diverge, unless arrested and held by your State, and which can only be done by the immediate construction of a railroad as above stated, from some point on the Columbia river to or through the heart of Idaho. I have heard it said that there is some talk of such a road from your city via Eugene City and Klamath valley, connecting with the Pacific road at some point on the Humboldt. That I presume is possible and would answer better than none at all, but not a "drop in the bucket" when compared to the one contemplated as above from the Columbia river. The former is, in my judgment, simply a ruse on the part of some long headed monopolist to satisfy whatever enterprising spirit there may be in your State, till the portion lying in the Willamette valley shall have been built, hoping and fully expecting to buy off the remainder, as by that time all can see the folly, and having bought that will compromise with the coming clamor for railroads by connecting the Willamette valley road with the Sacramento. The latter of which last week fell into the hands of one of the most powerful monopolies on the continent—the Central Pacific Railroad Company. Then the finest body of land in the world—the Willamette valley—will find its outlet through the hands of a heartless monopoly and fall immediately into the lot of California, enriching the merchants. If the latter is built, and that immediately, you will have secured your natural commercial advantage, and your line of travel will be direct.

SHERMANS VS SPARTANS.—On Saturday the first game in a match between the Shermans of Vancouver and the Spartans of this city, was played on the Pioneer's grounds in this city, with the following result:

QUOTATIONS OF WHEAT.—In our review of the markets on Friday—published in the Daily and Weekly OREGONIAN of Saturday morning—the price of wheat was spoken of, inadvertently, as $1 20; but in the tables, it was quoted correctly at $1 10. We mention this that no one need be misled. There is another matter which may puzzle some people in the country. The Advocate quoted wheat under date, Saturday, 19th, at 85c@$1 12½. The Herald's figures on Friday, the 18th, were $1 10@$1 25, while the OREGONIAN quoted it at $1 10. The fact about wheat was that, on Friday, $1 10 was exactly what cash buyers paid for wheat. There was no cash range above that and only a very small cash range below, for a few loads that were very dirty. One or two firms paid $1 15, part cash and part goods. Nobody bought or sold any wheat as low as 85c nor as low, even, as $1 00. On the day before, (Thursday,) wheat was buoyant and brought $1 20, cash, and $1 25, part cash and part goods. The news of Thursday evening from San Francisco, was to the effect that wheat had fallen and the market was in a flurry, and consequently, cash buyers here opened on Friday at $1 10 and held to that figure all day, except as mentioned above. We have the most unquestionable means of knowing every day, the precise condition of the wheat market, and farmers can rely upon our quotations.

RECORDER'S COURT.—On Saturday, the 19th, the following proceedings were had in the Recorder's Court:

City vs. Clara Chappelle; disorderly conduct; Jury trial, jurors: Robert Patton, Arthur Fable, Henry Martin, Isaac Bergman, E. Dewitt and E. R Zimmerman, verdict of jury, "not guilty." This conclusion of this trial will probably surprise those people who have heretofore been under the impression that the city has laws against, and penalties for, "disorderly conduct." It might be well for the Council to inquire whether it has power and ingenuity enough to frame such an ordinance as, under which, this sort of offenders can be punished. There was a brawl, and loud and obscene language used in the street by the defendant and another woman; the whole neighborhood was disturbed and outraged by it; and yet, through the hair splitting of a jury, the defendant gets off and the city has the cost to pay. If the ordinance be weak or uncertain, the Council should at once provide an ordinance whose terms cannot be mistaken or avoided either by juries or "any other man."

The case of the city vs Ellen Robinson; disorderly conduct; continued till to-day.

State vs Fred Stump: charge larceny, by stealing three blankets from —— Patton; charge dismissed and costs taxed against complaining witness.

WANT TO BE CONSIDERED CIVILIZED.—The Vancouver Register says: "We are informed by the deputy Sheriff that eleven native Indians made their appearance in town a few days ago for the purpose of being assessed and paying their Territorial, school and county taxes, which they did. They also requested that information be communicated to the Road Supervisor of this District, of their liability and readiness to perform road labor. These Indians were taken some time ago to the Reservation, but have returned to their old homes above the white settlements on the North Fork of Lewis river, probably the place of their birth and the home of their childhood, to which they are strongly attached. They have taken this course, in the belief that it will protect them from removal again to the Reservation. The white settlers who live nearest these Indians agree as to their harmlessness and good behavior. Five of them paid their poll tax, and their aggregate taxes amounted to $18 20."

ATHLETICS VS. SECOND NINE SPARTANS.—Immediately after the close of the contest on Saturday between the Shermans and Spartans, a game was played on the same grounds, between the first nine of the Athletics and the second nine of the Spartans. We have not been furnished the complete record of the game, but the following are the runs for each inning:

Athletics......	4	3	1	9	8	12	12	4	48
Spartans......	3	2	10	5	8	4	0	8	43

Game was called at the end of the 8th inning, on account of darkness. Fly catches—Athletics—Giltner, 1; Masters, 2, Chapman, 1; Reid, 1; Barry, 1; Bird, 1. Spartans—Mills, 5; Matthews, 1; Birmingham, 1; Hybee, 1; Morton, 1. Umpire, Mr. Clement of the Pioneers. Jacobi, scorer for Athletics; Morton, for Spartans.

ONE PART OF THE MYSTERY CLEARED UP.—A letter from Capt. J. T. Apperson, states that the bundle received at the American Exchange last week directed to the address of Col. J. H. Neyce, and of which we made mention, was left with him by Col. Neyce before he went to the Linn County Fair, and was forwarded by him (Capt. Apperson) when he saw the notice in the papers about Col. Neyce's disappearance. The Albany Democrat of Saturday says nothing more has been learned of the missing man though diligent search has been made by the citizens of Albany.

EXCHANGE OF STEAMERS.—To-day, the Wilson G. Hunt will take the place of the Cascade on the route from this city to the Cascades. The Hunt has been for some months, tied up at the Bone-yard, and, during that time, has been refitted and re-furnished throughout in the most perfect manner. Her cabins are, perhaps, as elegant as those of any river steamer now on the Pacific coast. Yesterday she was visited by great numbers of people at the O. S. N. Co's wharf.

DEATH OF LIEUT PIKE.—A note from Bt. Major J. G. Trimble, Acting Adjutant at the Post of Fort Vancouver says, under date, Oct. 10th: "Official information has been received at these headquarters of the death of Second Lieut James Pike, Company I, First United States Cavalry at Camp Logan, Oregon, on the 14th day of October, 1867." The death of Lieut Pike resulted from an accidental gun-shot wound which induced tetanus.

CHURCH ELECTION.—The Hebrew Congregation at the Synagogue yesterday afternoon elected officers for the ensuing year. Mr. B. Blumauer was elected President, Leopold Mayer Vice President and Leo Wolff Recording Secretary. There were quite a number of other officers chosen but we did not obtain their names.

WILLAMETTE RECEIPTS.—On Saturday the Alert brought down from Oregon City, 332 bags wheat, 1 coop ducks, 1 sheep, 7 pkgs fruit trees, 9 sks fruit, 1 bbl cider, 5 bales sides, 1 pr blocks, 1 plow, 243 bags oats, 3 bee hives, 12 boxes eggs, 6 cases lard, 1 roll carpet, 12 hlf bbls dried apples.

ARRESTED.—On Saturday evening, a Chinaman named Lee Fan was arrested on the charge of an attempt to suborn perjury, and will have an examination before the Recorder, to-day.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—Judge Deady will, this morning, resume the session of the U. S. Circuit Court. There are but few cases yet to dispose of.

TREASURE RECEIPT.—On Saturday, Wells Fargo & Co. received from the Upper Columbia, $10 000 in treasure.

THE "FIDELITER."—The steamship Fideliter sailed from Victoria for Portland, Saturday, the 19th.

BARMAN BROS. will receive on the steamer Oriflamme, due to-day, direct from New York, a large invoice of Beaver and Cassimere Suits, Silk, Gingham and Cotton Umbrellas, and special attention is called to their Pacific Rubber Cloaks, the neatest garment ever imported to Oregon. Leopold Barman certainly appreciates the wants of Webfoot.

STATE ITEMS.

Wheat was quoted at 75 cents at Albany on Saturday.

Judge Wilson has gone to Grant county, to hold the fall term of the Circuit Court.

William Felger who was shot by Indians on the 1st inst. near the Snake river ferry died on the 11th inst.

A man by the name of James Brady, committed suicide on Saturday last, in King's valley, near the residence of Mr. J. Plunkett, for whom he had been at work.

J. W. P. Huntington Esq. Superintendent of Indian Affairs for Oregon, left the Dalles on Tuesday morning for the Klamath Lake country, with the annuity goods for the Indians of that section of country.

The Boise Statesman says that quite a number of men are leaving that place for the newly discovered mines on Willow creek in the Burnt river country. They are said to be rich and extensive. We will hope reliable news from there in a few days.

The Dalles paper of Saturday says: On Tuesday afternoon last, Dr. J. E. Kellogg, a resident of this city, was found in a dying condition, and on examination it appeared that he was suffering from the effects of poison, that he had no doubt taken with a view of ending his life. Antidotes were administered, but too late, as the poison had already done its work, and he died in a short time after first found. He had been drinking very hard for a long time and had become tired of life. He appeared to be a man of considerable education and no doubt of a good family; but strong drink, the curse of many, selected him as one of its victims. He was a native of New York and about 31 years old.

The Mountaineer publishes the following under the head of Canyon City news: From one of the stage passengers we learn that a battle was lately fought with the Indians that lasted for three days. It appears that the Indians were fortified in the rocks, and that General Crook after fighting them for three days made a night attack upon them and drove the Indians from their stronghold. One Lieutenant was killed and a number of men wounded. The majority of the Indians made their escape. A shooting affair came off on Granite Creek in which one of two men were killed. Two of the men who escaped from the Auburn jail are in the vicinity of Elk creek, and are supposed to be at their old tricks of robbing and murdering. A shooting affair came off in Canyon City, but resulted in smoke.

The Corvallis Gazette of Saturday has the following: A gloom has settled over our entire community, occasioned by the sudden accidental death of Mrs. Dixon, wife of Mr. Wm. F. Dixon, the original town proprietor of lower Corvallis, under the following painful circumstances. On last Sabbath morning, Mr. Dixon, wife and two sons, James and Cyrus, left Corvallis in a hack, for their home on the Yaquina Bay. The old folks stopped for the night at Mr. Benj. Thorp's, near the bridge, and the boys, taking the lead horses, went home and were to return the next morning. About 9 o'clock the next morning, the old folks concluded they would go on. On gaining the summit of a hill, a short distance from Mr. Thorp's, upon a narrow grade, one of the horses fell, and thus precipitated the hack and contents, down a steep embankment. Mrs. Dixon received injuries by the capsizing of the hack, which produced death in about three hours. Mr. D., almost miraculously, escaped unhurt, except the stun occasioned by the fall.

TELEGRAPH BOYS.—Western Union Telegraph messenger boys at Boston lately went on a strike because the company cut down their wages from three to two cents per message, and were promptly discharged. Other messengers were employed, but the strikers with surprising precocity, immediately organized war against them, lying in wait for them and pommeling them at every opportunity.

A young lady went out with a rather timid beau sleighing one evening, and complacently remarked to him that she seldom went a sleighing but she got chaps on her lips. The young man took the hint and chapped.

MEDICAL LECTURES.—The second regular course of Medical Lectures in the Willamette University, at Salem will commence on the 4th of November and continue four months. Among the professors in this department are some of the ablest practitioners in the State; and the facilities for imparting a thorough medical education, are ample. The institution deserves a liberal and hearty support.

OPPOSITION TO NEW YORK.—The North American S. S. Co. advertise in the OREGONIAN the sailing of the Moses Taylor from San Francisco, on Friday, Oct. 25th. The Moses Taylor takes passengers via the Nicaragua route, which is claimed to be a shorter and more healthy route than that via Panama. The rates of fare are somewhat less than those by the Pacific Mail Co's steamers.

RACES.—A series of trotting races over the Riverside Track, will open next Thursday and continue three days. The reader will see what purses are offered by consulting Mr. Welch's advertisement on the second page of this morning's paper.

NOTICE.—Spartans there will be a regular meeting of your Club this (Monday) evening at 7½ o'clock.

W. S. CHAPMAN, Secretary.

PIONEERS.—Meet for practice this afternoon. Special meeting at 7 o'clock this evening.

The Proprietor of the LAFAYETTE RESTAURANT takes pleasure in informing his friends and the public in general, that from this date, and during the oyster season, he will keep his establishment open at night until 2 o'clock A. M., and will serve Oysters and Suppers in every style.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER.

It is a real pleasure to us to speak favorably of this article, known almost universally to be a good and safe remedy for burns and other pains of the body. It is valuable not only for colds in the winter, but for various summer complaints, and should be in every family. The casualty which demands it may come unawares.—Christian Advocate.

PAIN KILLER, taken internally, should be adulterated with milk or water, and sweetened with sugar, if desired, or made into a syrup with molasses. For a Cough and Bronchitis, a few drops on sugar, eaten, will be more effective than anything else. For Sore Throat, gargle the throat with a mixture of Pain Killer and water and the relief is immediate and cure positive.

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.—The operation of this palatable remedy upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties, and it is recommended to mothers, enfeebled by the cares and duties of maternity, as the safest and best tonic they can probably use. In all the crisis of female life it will be found eminently useful, and elderly persons will derive much more benefit from it than from ordinary stimulants.—Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM should always be kept in your house, and be given immediately when the first symptoms appear, which will remove the mucus collected in the throat and save the life of your dear child.—Sold by dealers in family medicines generally.

Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.
HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities, CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commends here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers; Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water; invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels,
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.
NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.
The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.
Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.
As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.
Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and inocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

Uncle Thad.

"Private Miles O'Reily," though a Democrat, is not an unmitigated Philistine. He can even appreciate the good points of Thad Stevens, whom Democratic editors generally seem to think it a party duty to represent as a devil incarnate "Miles" has been writing a screed of verse on the great Radical, of which the following is a specimen:

Gnarled and tough from seventy Winters,
A gritty grizzly, bitter "Rad"—
Though our Union fall to splinters
Here's to Pennsylvania Thad!

Though lame his leg, his mind is rapid,
And all the House is hushed and glad,
When to squelch some talker vapid—
Rises Pennsylvania Thad.

He's in candor a believer
All may know the thought he had;
For no mealy-mouthed deceiver
Is our wrinkled Uncle Thad

Go it, my old shoulder-hitter!
For though we think your logic bad,
You're just as brilliant as you're bitter
Here's to Pennsylvania Thad!

A Muscular Young Man.

Let me mention a rather funny incident which occurred sometime since. In the first place you must know that all the young Harpers are athletes. Muscularity, by the way, seems to come to them as a legitimate inheritance. The story is told that on one occasion, many, many years ago, as stories say, when the hands in the composing room at a very critical moment proposed to knock off work, one of the firm, Fletcher's son, I think, stationed himself at the door below to remonstrate and persuade them back to duty. The first that came down was the foreman.

"Will you not go back to work?" asked Mr. Harper, mildly.

"See you d—d first, and then I wont, was the gruff response.

"Kerchung!" The foreman was thrown; and the publisher stood calmly awaiting another issue. Another brief but spirited dialogue occurred with the next comer, and so the thing went on until four had found their knock off terminate in a knock down. The rest went satisfiedly back to their work, and Mr. Harper pulling off his coat, went up stairs and officiated as foreman.

How true that story may be I do not know, but it passes current among printers. As for the following one, I stand ready to vouch:

Fletcher Harper is a practical gymnast, the most muscular of all the boys, and one of the best amateur sparers in the city. One day he went into a restaurant in the neighborhood of Franklin Square to lunch. While paying his check at the counter, a man, either intentionally or innocently—but presumedly the former—jostled off his hat.

Fletcher turned round, picked it up, and looked inquiringly at the offender, a light-looking man the latter, but with a suggestive wiriness about his make up. The look of inquiry was returned by stolid stare, than which nothing could be more provoking.

"You knocked off my hat, sir," said Fletcher at last, by of explanation.

"Well, what if I did?" returned the fellow.

"A gentleman apologizes if he does such a thing accidentally," said Fletcher.

"And if a gentleman doesn't apologize, what do you do about it?" was the cool return.

"Just step around with me out of the way of this crowd (a crowd had begun to collect) and I'll show you, I don't want a bar room fight."

"No, if you want any thing out of me just here," and the fellow evidently in his element, planted his feet, and began to put himself together.

"Come away," whispered one of Fletcher's friends, "a row here won't do," and despite his remonstrances, he was pulled and dragged away.

"Do you know who that is?" asked a bystander who followed the party out.

"No."

"Well, that's Barney Aaron, the champion of light weights."

"To this day, Fletcher asserts a regret that he didn't punch Barney's head for him, but I'm of the opinion that the thing turned out best for all parties as it was. Fletcher might have got the worst of it in the end at the hands of the professional pugilist, but Barney certainly wouldn't have had it all his own way in the beginning, and I have noticed that a great deal can be done by a judicious bystander, who understands the noble Parthian art of entrenching himself behind a counter and firing junk bottles with diabolical precision."

Regarding Work and Rest.

Now and then, when I am tired, when I have worked long and wearily and have had some experience of the attritions of man with man, and have gained some new light respecting the moral condition of imperfect and unsanctified men, I say to myself: "Well, you have worked more than the ordinary allotted period of man's life, and would it not be better for you now to withdraw and give place to younger men, and spend in an elegant leisure the declining period of your life?" It is a temptation of the devil. And when I get rested, when I get one sound night's sleep, and my nervous energy is restored again, and my system is invigorated, I am amazed at myself; and in the morning I flagellate the man that I knew last night.

Retire from life? I observe that trees keep all their beauty to the closing periods How beautiful is the tree when it comes out of winter, and puts on its delicate tints and its shades of green? We then look upon the tree as though it was a new creation, and we say: "Surely, God never made anything so beautiful as these trees; and yet, when summer deepens their hues, and they have become more robust, and we see what vigor and freshness and succulency there is in them, we say: "After all, give me the summer tints." And yet, when October days have come, and the last part of the tree life for the year is enacted, and we see the gorgeous yellows, the rich browns, and the magnificent scarlets, we say: "There, the last is the best." And might we not pattern from the trees? Might we not follow up our youth and manhood with fair colors and delicate tints to the end of life?

I do not think a man ought to want to rest in this world. He may desire to achieve the means of setting him free from physical taxation. He may say: "I will relinquish, in a measure, this, that I may transfer my activity to another sphere." That, it is proper for a man to do. But for a man to retire from life and society after he has been an active force therein, and filled his sphere with usefulness and seen the fruits of his labor multiplied at his hand, and knows the satisfaction of well-spent years—nature itself rebukes it. But many a man at the age of forty five years says to himself: "I am worth $500,000, and what a fool I am to work any longer! I am going to buy an estate in the country and be a gentleman." He buys him an estate, and undertakes to be a gentleman; but a man who has nothing to do is no gentleman. He goes into the country and learns how to wish he knew what to do. He goes into the country in order to take the cars every morning and comes to the city every day to see what is going on. And he soon discovers he has made a mistake: "What a fool I was! I thought I was unhappy, but I see that I was not." And he becomes discontented, and before two years have gone he sells his country place for fifty per cent. less than he gave, and goes to the city and enters into a new partnership, and says: "I have learned that a man had better not give up his business as long as he is able to attend to it." He could, I think, have learned it without going through that practice. A man ought not to be obliged to stumble upon every evil of life in order to find it out. Something ought to be learned from other people's blunders. There are enough of them.—H. W. Beecher.

THE ROYAL BALSAM!

HAS NOW BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC FOR A length of time, and wherever used is highly recommended, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used; and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction, but, on the contrary, all are delighted with it and speak in the highest terms of its magical effects. The astonishing efficacy of the ROYAL BALSAM, in curing the diseases for which it is recommended entitles it to the highest rank among the list of medicines, and no family can be without it after once trying it.

☞ Read the following testimonials from some of the most prominent citizens of Oregon:

MIRACULOUS CURE.

DR. HENLEY—Dear Sir: I feel it but a duty to inform you and the public what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my wife. She had been affected with a severe cough for several weeks, which had assumed a dangerous feature, for which many physicians have been trying without any material benefit, and all the remedies failed to give her any relief. Without relief was got I feared for the worst, in her present condition. The cough appeared to be worse at night, she could get no rest—when Mr. Randall, of this place, advised me to try your Royal Balsam; all other remedies having failed, I concluded to try it, and I purchased two bottles. Strange to say, by the time I gave her three spoonfuls of the Balsam she got relief, and slept, a thing she had not done for three nights previous. By the time she had taken one bottle the cough was checked. Its effect was truly miraculous, as the cure was effectual, hence, I have no hesitation in recommending the Royal Balsam to all who are afflicted, and it appears astonishing to me that medicine of such great merit, and I might say magical effect, is not more in use. My candid opinion is, if persons use it once, they never be without it in the house.
Vancouver, March 1, 1867. H. COCHRAN.

From Wm. Doty.

North Yamhill, July 15, 1867.

DEAR DR HENLEY—It is with sincere gratitude I undertake to write to you, what your Royal Balsam has done for me For the last 12 years I have been afflicted with a severe cough and what also some of the physicians called the Bronchitis, and have spent a fortune to get cured, trying all the physicians and remedies I could get to no purpose. Through the influence of my neighbors (for you have a great name with them here,) I got a bottle of your Royal Balsam, and finding that it relieved me considerably I sent for a half dozen more. And now after one month using it I am perfectly cured. I gained ten pounds within a month and feel quite a different man. I send you this for publication for the benefit of humanity, that through my experience others in affliction may be relieved as I have been Yours truly,
WILLIAM DOTY.

From Sophia M. Holman.

DEAR DR. HENLEY—It is my duty to inform you and the public, what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my children. Two of them had a very bad cough and cold, I got a bottle of the Royal Balsam, and gave them some at bedtime and some in the morning, and that was all that was needed to cure them. I was astonished at not hearing them cough again, but so it was. I find if you give it in larger doses it will make the children throw up in an instant, and I think every mother ought to have a bottle of your Royal Balsam in the house, in case a child should get the croup for which it is a sure remedy, as it acts like magic on children What I have seen and heard from my neighbors about the Royal Balsam I would sooner depend on it than on any prescription from any physician I have lost two children within the last year of the same disease, had I had at the time some of the Royal Balsam I am confident my dear ones would be alive now I shall always recommend it to all my friends, for I consider it a blessing and Godsend to mankind.
Yours truly, SOPHIA M. HOLMAN.

From Drs. Bell & Parker.

We have sold a great deal of Medicine since we have been in business, and now have fifteen different kinds of Expectorants for sale. But Dr. Henley's Royal Balsam takes the palm from all. In fact, we sell six bottles of Royal Balsam to one of any other kind—and really it seems of no use to keep any other. During our experience we have never seen any medicine that gives the satisfaction the Royal Balsam does, as is proven by the results daily coming in from the country of old Chronic cases, when nothing else would remove the dreadful cough they had I find it is good for Bronchitis and Asthma. We acknowledge it is a pleasure to sell medicine that gives such universal satisfaction.
BELL & PARKER,
Druggists, Oregon City.

From W. F. Barber.

DR. HENLEY—Dear Sir: I had the Asthma for the last four years, so bad that it came near choking me. I tried all the patent medicines recommended for the cure of Asthma without doing me the least good, till I was told to try some of your Royal Balsam, which on several afflicted with the same disease, has performed wonders. I am using it now for a week and strange to say I have not experienced anything since, and I really believe that I am perfectly cured, anyhow I shall never be without a bottle of the Royal Balsam in the house in case of a similar attack, and I have no hesitation in recommending it to all afflicted with the same disease.
I am Yours truly,
W F. BARBER.

From J. H. Morril.

DEAR DR. HENLEY—I think it but justice to you that these few lines should be made known to the public, for there is so much humbug going on in patent medicines and quack nostrums now-a-days that I had lost all faith in everything in the shape of medicine. I was affected with what is called Bronchitis for the last thirty years, I coughed and wheezed for an hour at a time; I tried some of the best physicians in the Atlantic States and on this coast, all to no purpose. I could get no relief, and I really thought there was no relief for me in the world I was induced to try a bottle of your Royal Balsam and it had a most remarkable effect on me, and before I had used up four bottles, the cough left me and I can talk as loud as anybody, my wife and neighbors don't know what to make of it. My opinion is that if they knew the value of the Royal Balsam there is not a family in the country that would be without it, I think there is not a better medicine in existence for Bronchitis or cough than the Royal Balsam, and I conscientiously recommend to all so afflicted to give it a fair trial.
I remain yours, truly,
J. H. MORRIL.

THE MOST REMARKABLE DISCOVERY EVER MADE!

SPRAINED WRIST CURED.

PORTLAND, August 10, 1867.

I was at Mr Walter's store on Saturday, August 10th, and seeing the magic effect of J. G. RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT, in his case, concluded to try it on my wrist which has been sprained for some time. I found relief inside of FIVE MINUTES from its application, and it is now perfectly well My wrist was so swelled I could not shut my fingers I believe it will cure any pain in a short time I will give any further particulars to whoever calls on me

Tumor Removed!

PORTLAND, August 10th, 1867.

I HAVE USED RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT for pain and swelling of the gum and cheek. I had a large tumor forming on the gum which arose from killing the nerve in my tooth and caused me a dreadful pain which prevented me from sleep for several nights I applied the Liniment, and to my surprise, it removed the lump and eased the pain so that it is now as well as the other cheek. My cheek was fearfully swollen. This was done in the presence of two witnesses.
I. MITCHELL.

PORTLAND, August 12th, 1867.

For five years I have suffered with a pain or weakness in my back, which at times was dreadful I often thought I could not bear such torment. But I got a bottle of RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT, and with one rub it perfectly cured me I can recommend it to any lady suffering from pains in any way, for I am convinced it will at once remove them. Rheumatism Cured!

State of Oregon, County of Multnomah—ss.

I JEREMIAH BROOK, BEING DULY SWORN, SAY that I am fifty-three years of age, that I reside in Yamhill County, State of Oregon. I came to Portland on business, on horseback, from my home this morning. When I left home I could scarcely walk or stand on my feet, from Rheumatism, which has afflicted me for the last eight years. I was standing in Wilson's stable, on First street, in this city, when I heard Mr. Rennick's offer to bet that he would take out the Rheumatism in any case in twenty minutes. Rennick offered to bet $100 that he could do it. I went to Mr. Rennick's house and he applied the Liniment to my leg, and in twenty minutes my leg felt sound and limber, and as well as ever. TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fœtid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

TO THE LADIES.

The various complicated and distressing diseases incident to females, treated with eminent success Such as Suppressions, Irregularities, Whites, Falling of the Womb, Tumors, all Urinary Diseases, Nervous Debility, Painful or Difficult Menstruation, Barrenness, etc., will be speedily cured, without poisonous drugs, injuries or unpalatable medicines of any kind Have no delicacy in calling, no difference what your troubles may be The afflicted are cordially invited to call and satisfy themselves.

Persons calling at Dr. Gibbon's office or sending for packages of medicines, may rely upon his assurances of confidential secrecy with implicit faith, and expect no more than to be charged with, a fair, and mutually satisfactory remuneration for services rendered, considering the circumstances and difficulties of cases, rather than a too prevalent and selfish practice of extortion among quacks and pretenders.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

Consultations FREE.

REDINGTON & CO'S
ESSENCE OF JAMAICA GINGER.

☞ This valuable preparation, containing, in a highly concentrated form, all the properties of the Jamaica Ginger, has become one of the most popular domestic remedies for all diseases of the stomach and digestive organs.

As a tonic, it will be found invaluable to all persons recovering from debility, whether produced by fever or otherwise, for, while it imparts to the system all the glow and vigor that can be produced by wine or brandy, it is entirely free from the reactionary effects that follow the use of spirits of any kind.

It is also an excellent remedy for females who suffer from difficult menstruation, giving almost immediate relief to the spasms that so frequently accompany that period.

It gives immediate relief to Nausea, caused by riding in a railroad car, or by sea-sickness, or other cause. It is also valuable as an external application for Gout, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, etc.
